

Teen News

Good morning! Thanks to those who came to the DEVO last Sunday. We had a great lesson and a fun fellowship. The food was good too! I want to encourage the youth group to make time to read and study your Bible throughout this week. Make it a habit to study and pray. The more you are in God's word, the more you grow. Thanks for being here today and I hope you all have a great week!

"THE BACKBONE"

The word backbone is really a misnomer because it refers to the spine which has 33 bones called vertebrae. It is a very complex part of our anatomy which science divides into 4 parts. However for this article we will only use 3 parts—the upper, middle and lower "backbone" in order to compare it to our spiritual walk. Somehow it has come to signify courage or strength which would be an interesting etymology study in itself. As the spine supports the torso in the vertical position, so the Lord's church supports the truth and is also called "...God's household...and the pillar and foundation of the truth." (1 Tim 3: 15) The upper part of this pillar would be made up of those who are most visible, vocal and visionary—usually the elders, deacons, teachers and other leaders. Their roles are ones that people know and recognize. They are probably known by name. The middle part would have members who are sacrificial, social and serving. They uphold the "one another" verses that New Testament Christians are supposed to do. They might be greeters, ushers, people who set up and clean up before and after events, helpers of those who move in or out of houses, visitors of the sick and many other tasks. They plan and execute special events like VBS, Mission Possible, gospel meetings, chili suppers and other meals. They visit the sick, help people get to worship services and print and distribute the bulletin and other materials. You may or may not know their names, but you'll recognize and appreciate their smiles. The lower part of the pillar would be the members who are humble, helpful and habitual. You may not know their names because they are most often silent servants. They may be widows, widowers, singles and just shy people. They support the church by attending, encouraging, providing rides to appointments, sending cards, making calls, listening to and informing elders of special needs, contributing financial support and prayer. All three of these "backbone" parts are greatly needed to allow God's household to stand tall in the world in which we live. It demands courage and strength and everyday commitment. No matter your role, God has a reward for you. (Heb 6:10)

Great Give Me The Bible Conference Monday Night For The Master

From Dan's desk:

The "Give Me The Bible" conference was great, the lessons were encouraging and all that were involved were great. Thanks to each of you who were in attendance. We had 18 congregations that were represented. The program is doing well. I was in Fort Worth this last week on Tuesday taping four programs for distribution to all of our FOX, ABC, NBC and GBN affiliates. We continue to reach out to others with the Gospel. Please remember that tomorrow night we will meet for "Monday Night For The Master." We have not met since the month of October and it is great to be back in the new "Routine for 2018". We hope you will be able to be with us at 6:15 for the meal and then stay for the work session up until 8 P.M. We are always able to accomplish so much more when we work together in God's Kingdom. We still have a number of brethren who have been ill and unable to attend services, and we want to continue to pray for them. Some are still in the hospital and others entering tomorrow. Remember them in your prayers, thoughts and with your cards and calls. I know that this means so much to brethren who are unable to join us in times of worship. Many have been sick with the "influenza". There has been a terrible epidemic going around this year in the U.S.A. Continue to pray for those who lead us in Washington that they can resolve their issues and do what is best for our country. It seems that this is typical so much of the time, with those who are suppose to make decisions for those in our homeland. Continue to pray for them. The month of January is almost history. It is almost unbelievable that the first month of 2018 is nearing completion. The new month of February promises many great things. DAN

DOES GOD OWN YOU?

This song of a teenage girl's rebellion against her boyfriend's control was recently used in a car commercial. Using Lesley Gore's hit of 1963 as a background, a young woman's cooking attempt is dumped into a trash can by a chef. Her work is later vindicated as we see her selling it from a food truck which we assume she now owns. We can probably all relate to the attitude of wanting the freedom to create our own plans and ideas with grit and fortitude. However, we also need to balance this by understanding and accepting the reality that a parent, principal, employer and government usually provide the resources that allow it. A part of the song says, "Don't tell me what to do (or say), don't try to change me in any way. (I want) to live my life the way I want.." Once again, this seems to be a normal desire for many teenagers and many adults. However, we have all seen the results if this feeling develops into unchecked anarchy. The Christian walk seems to be an oxymoron in that it involves both slavery and freedom. We have, "...been set free from sin and have become slaves to God..."(Rom 6:22) (Gal 2:4) As free slaves we also have the choice to remain faithful or run away. Onesimus, the slave, fled from his master Philemon from Colosse to Rome until he discovered real freedom in Christ from the Apostle Paul. (Phi 10, 11) The book of Hebrews talks of those who, after "once being enlightened and tasting of the heavenly gift and sharing in the Holy Spirit..." still having the option to "fall away." (Heb 6:4-6)(Heb 4:11) Yes, Christ owns us and can and does tell us what to do and say through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit in many scriptures. He can do this because he paid the price to buy us with His own blood.
